

FACIAL SERVICE LIST

Facials help remove dead skin to bring brighter and younger-looking skin on the surface. Regular facials can delay the signs of aging, treat acne, relax, and destress you, while also increasing blood flow to your entire face. You should choose a facial based on the type of skin you have and the problem you want addressed:

CLASSIC GLOW FACIAL GHC 300

A classic or standard facial usually involves cleansing, exfoliating, extractions, a mask, and a moisturizer. What differs is the products used based on skin type. This is a great choice for all skin types.

HYDRA-FACIAL GHC 350

A hydrating facial is designed specifically for hydrating and healing skin. Skin can become dull, patchy, or even flaky because of dehydration. A hydrating facial immediately nourishes the skin, relieving tightness and the appearance of fine lines.

DERMAPLANING FACIAL GHC 350

This is a procedure that exfoliates your skin and gets rid of dirt and vellus hair that make it look uneven, better known as peach fuzz. A scalpel is used to remove the top layers of your skin. It aims to remove fine wrinkles and deep acne scarring as well as make the skin's surface look smooth, bright, and more youthful.

AROMATHERAPY FACIAL GHC 350

This facial uses aromatherapy oils for added benefits while following a similar process to the other kinds. It helps to rejuvenate the skin while relaxing the mind with the aromas. It can be done at any time of the year.

ANTI-AGING FACIAL GHC 400

This facial uses products with ingredients that are effective in diminishing the signs of aging which are present on mature skin. Since it is for older skin, women over the age of 30 can have it done regularly for best results. It can be done at any time of the year. This consists of cleansing, exfoliation or skin resurfacing, masks, deep pore cleansing with extractions, and hydration elements.

LED FACIAL GHC 450

Also known as Color Light Therapy, an LED facial harnesses specific wavelengths of light to address breakouts and inflammation making it the perfect facial for acne. The pain-free technique has been shown to help stimulate cell growth, improve overall complexion, reduce redness, minimize the appearance of sunspots or fine lines, and smooth wrinkles.

Thank you!